

NEW ZEALAND GROWN SUPERFRY

NEW ZEALAND GROWN HIGH OLEIC FRYING OILS

Superfry oils are the awesome high oleic, cold pressed, and low temperature refined oils grown on the Canterbury plains. Superfry is GE free and available in both NZ grown high oleic rapeseed and NZ grown high oleic sunflower options. Thanks to the power of high oleic seed, our oils last longer and create crisper food that is cleaner tasting. Power-up with Superfry and lets change New Zealand, one fryer at a time.

WHY HIGH OLEIC & COLD PRESSED?

In a world where consumers crave healthier food choices and yearn to know the origins of their meals, demand for home-grown, GE Free oils is skyrocketing. Pure Oil New Zealand stands as a vanguard in this crusade, collaborating directly with our heroic Growers to cultivate superior crops. Our method? Extracting Superfry oil from high oleic seed through a cold pressing technique, and refining it with low temperature to protect the quality of this super oil and creating something extraordinary. This isn't just any oil - it's a high quality oil crafted for the champions of commercial kitchens. Join us and elevate your culinary arsenal!

LOCAL, TRACEABLE & SUSTAINABLE

Our commitment to excellence ensures these top-quality seeds are meticulously grown and then cold-pressed in Rolleston, Canterbury. We champion sustainability by utilising every part of the seed in our facility and transforming used oil into biofuel. Our refined oils are distributed locally to reduce food miles, supporting both culinary excellence and environmental stewardship. Join our eco-friendly initiative in revolutionising frying oils!
